

Grammar

1 Choose.

Andy's little sister is having a party. It should/must be her birthday!

2 Choose a or b.

- You ☐ be doing that just now.
☐ oughtn't ☒ shouldn't
- You ☐ have tidied up, but I'm happy you did.
☐ needn't ☐ mustn't
- You ☐ have asked Mandy. She knows more about it than I do.
☐ should ☐ would
- Brad ☐ be there, but it's unlikely.
☐ can ☐ may
- You ☐ be right, but I don't think so.
☐ could ☐ must
- ☐ you open that window, please?
☐ Would ☐ May
- Ask Vicky. She ☐ know what to do.
☐ can ☐ will
- ☐ you tell me how to get to the post office, please?
☐ Should ☐ Could

?

Do we know for sure if Tom went to the supermarket yesterday?

- Tom didn't need to go to the supermarket yesterday.

3 Complete each sentence with an item from the list.

- should • couldn't • had • ~~shall~~ • must
• needn't • would • ought

- We're going to the park soon. Shall we wait for you to join us?
- He's just finished running a marathon. He be exhausted.
- I think you to apologise to Fred for what you did.
- I couldn't go out because I to prepare our lunch.
- You help them. They can do it without you.
- If you see Eva, you ask her to phone me this evening?
- She have seen George. He's been out of town all day.
- You have asked Charlie to take you. He was going there anyway.

4 Choose the correct option or options.

- He should have/ought to have asked me before he took my book!
- She can/must have got wet; she didn't take an umbrella with her.
- Can/Should you help me with the cooking tonight?
- I'm sure that Al will/shall be happy to see you.
- You don't have/need to go if you don't want to.
- We got a little lost, but we were able to/could find our way there in the end.
- They can't/won't have gone to the beach. It's raining!
- You shouldn't/couldn't worry about Kevin. He's going to be fine.
- It was warm, so we didn't need to/mustn't take coats with us last night.
- Could/Would you help me move the sofa, please?