

Name: _____

Date: _____

Internet Friends Around Europe: Lesson Starter

Welcome back! Today we are exploring how computers and the Internet connect us with friends across Europe. Complete these quick-fire warm-up questions to activate what you already know about European neighbours, capital cities, and digital communication!

1. Connor sent an email to Kostas from Ireland.
Which city is the capital of Ireland?

☐ A) London

☐ B) Dublin

☐ C) Athens

☐ D) Paris

2. Match each European country to its capital city. Write the correct city name in the box.

Word Bank: Athens • London • Dublin

Country	Capital City
Greece
Ireland

United Kingdom

3. Which computer part do you use to type an email message to a friend across the sea?

☐ Screen

☐ Mouse

☐ Keyboard

☐ Printer

4. Read each sentence about digital connections. Write True or False in each box.

a) The Internet lets pupils share hobbies and talk without travelling.

b) Greece and Ireland have the exact same climate and landscape.

5. Connor in Dublin and Liam in England both use computers after school. Name two popular online activities that young people enjoy doing together across Europe:

6. Choose the correct ocean from the box to complete the sentence:

Pacific • Atlantic • Indian

Greece borders the warm Mediterranean Sea, while Ireland is an island in the North _____ Ocean.

Answers

1. B) Dublin
2. Greece: Athens | Ireland: Dublin | United Kingdom: London
3. Keyboard
4. a) True | b) False (Greece has a warm Mediterranean climate, whereas Ireland is an Atlantic island in northwestern Europe)
5. Any two of: playing online computer games, sending emails, messaging friends, researching homework, taking virtual museum tours, sharing music.
6. Atlantic